Mustang

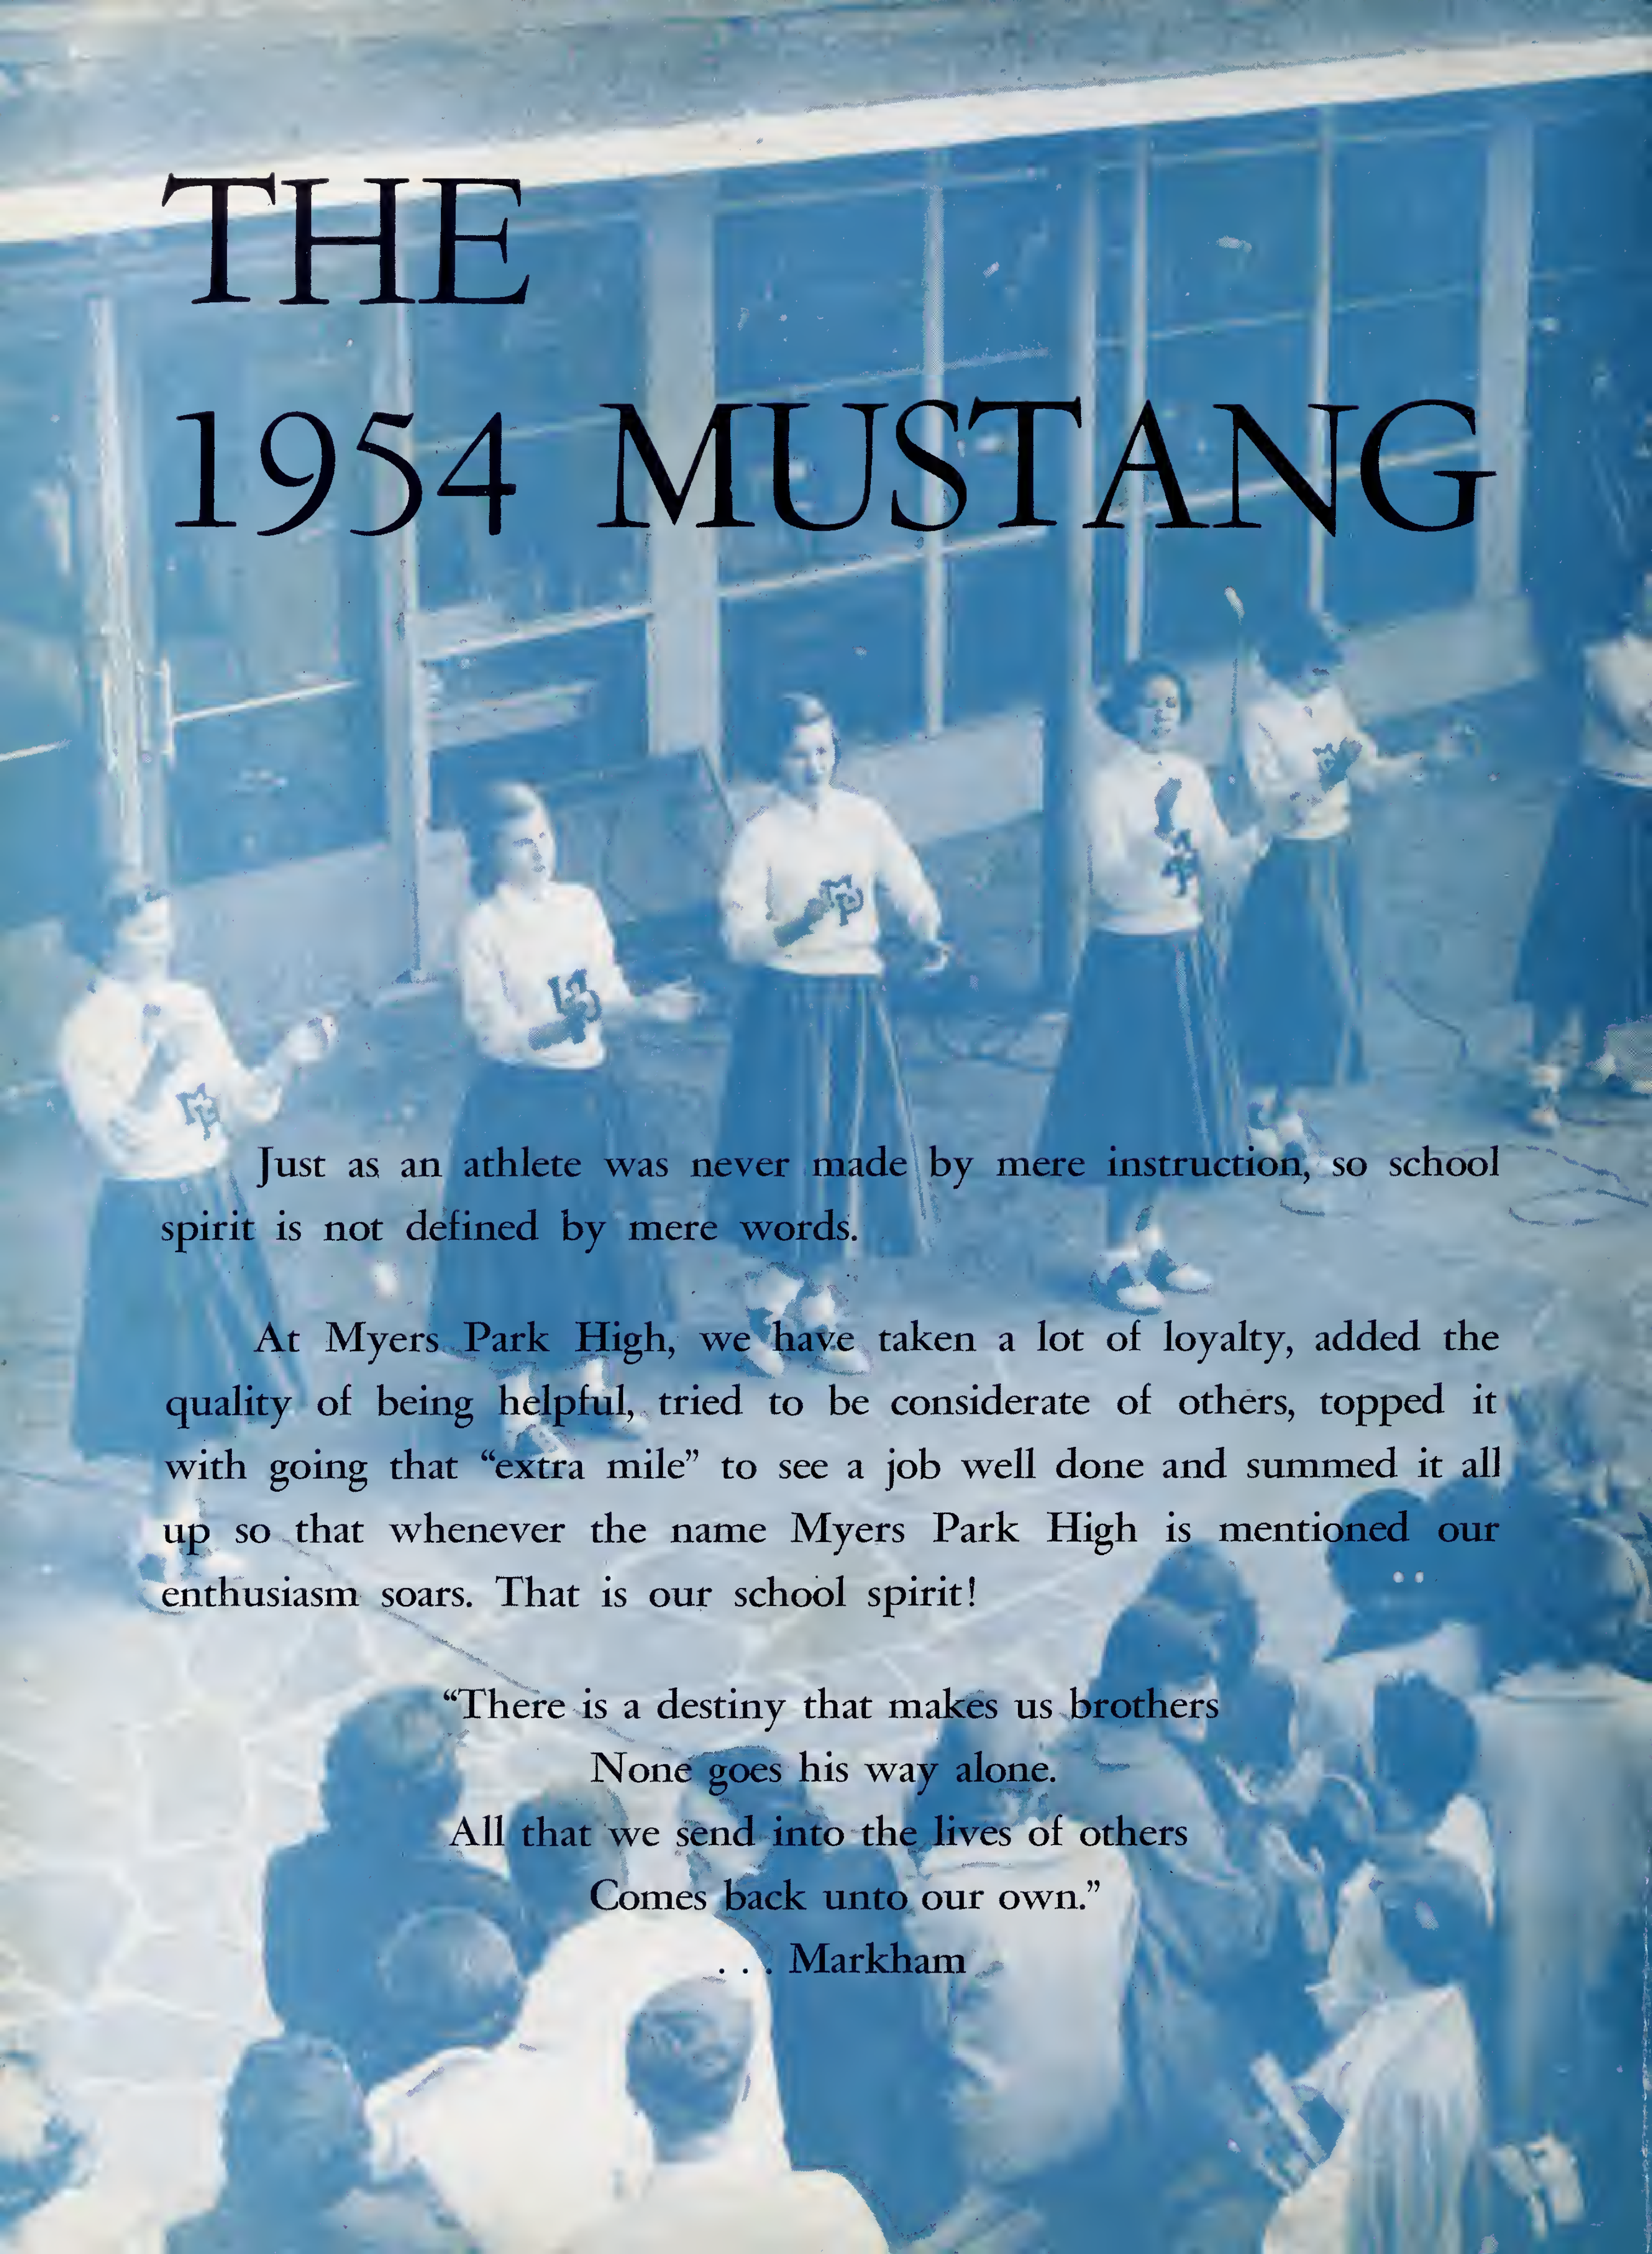
THE 1954 MUSTANG



Just as an athlete was never made by mere instruction, so school spirit is not defined by mere words.

At Myers Park High, we have taken a lot of loyalty, added the quality of being helpful, tried to be considerate of others, topped it with going that "extra mile" to see a job well done and summed it all up so that whenever the name Myers Park High is mentioned our enthusiasm soars. That is our school spirit!

"There is a destiny that makes us brothers
None goes his way alone.
All that we send into the lives of others
Comes back unto our own."
. . . Markham

"Sow a thought,
reap an act, reap a habit;
Sow a habit,
reap a character;
Sow a character,
reap a destiny."

*These smiling faces, characteristic of students
Myers Park High School, Charlotte, reflect the peace and tranquility
Buildings, framed in nature's to create and inspire us to investigate*

so—
at North Carolina,
of a modern campus....
rustic beauty symbolize the desire unknown fields of learning—.

FOREWORD

We enclose, with a reasonable amount of pride, the "hoof-prints" that we have left at Myers Park High 1953-54.

"Hoof-prints" of all Mustangs remain as a wise man once said, "whether we will it or not, we cannot journey through life without leaving foot prints".

Let us "harness" the forces of good that have been our privilege at Myers Park and "saddle" the best qualities we possess for better things to come; so that our "hoof-prints" will always remain a symbol of that which is good to all the classes that follow.

Miss Oma Lafferty

The Myers Park Mustangs join others in believing that earth's great treasures lie in human personality, and that service to humanity is the best work of life.

Therefore to Miss Oma Lafferty we, the Senior Class, dedicate our 1954 Mustang knowing well the services she has performed for us and the work she has done to make us better students. We will always treasure her friendship and feel richer for having known her.

IN MEMORY OF FRANK ALEXANDER

Mr. Alexander was our friend. His bright smile always assured us of the help we knew he would give. Conscientious and thorough in his duties he was a part of our school. Even more—he was one of us.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

Lordly, supremely, we gaze over this our domain.
Today, holding hopefully to a fleeting moment of achievement;
Tomorrow, grasping, groping for a niche in the universe;
We will be nothing more than novices at living.
But by working, hoping, failing, ever perserving;
Then slowly, surely, steadily we shall climb
Until at last we approach our self-appointed goal.
If we undertake our task with all our vigor,
And if God has given us a spark of genius,
Then, perhaps, somewhere, small and insignificant,
We shall partially impart towards lasting peace
For which the world will long remember this—our generation.
But let it be known that the road will not be straight.
For searching, searching, ever eager, striving onward,
Always trying, sometimes failing, here is the course—
Will it bring peace to this chaotic world?

Work Spent . . . A FINISHED PRODUCT

"Hey! Miss Curry wants to see you!" How many times has a student at M. P. H. heard that startling phrase? Every afternoon, not including the free periods of some of its enthusiastic staff members, the annual editors locked themselves in their workshop and prepared big secrets for the '54 yearbook.

Lights, Cameras, Action, a bent back loaded with camera equipment, a puzzled expression, long legs pacing up and down our campus—this was the familiar figure of our one and only, faithful, Joe.

"I've got to have a note to get out of fourth period." David always left, but returned with an ad to brighten the future of the Mustang.

With "Buck" striving to get new ideas and Annette keeping account of its money, the annual slowly began to take a new shape.

Six full months were spent trying to mold a yearbook that would meet the standards of our outstanding school. These months were filled with deadlines not met, yet some met; big ideas not realized, yet others realized late hours; and in a few misguided moments, short tempers; but we know as we look at the outcome, every minute's work was worth the finished product.

30 . . . Gone to Bed

"Copy, copy . . . . we've got to have more copy!" Such are the familiar words of Tog Sanders, editor-in-chief of the MyerSpark.

With a disgusted look from Bob Lindsey, we hear the ever-present expression, "Why don't people get the facts? I'll never get this story straight."

For the past three years we, the MyerSpark staff, have tried to maintain superior standards in our newspaper by presenting your news in the most interesting style possible, and bringing you the best of student writings. But, most important, we have tried to represent you, the readers, and your opinions. We feel we have succeeded in making your paper one of the top activities in school, as well as ranking high with other high school papers throughout the nation.

We have enjoyed our work, and feel that time and effort were well spent; we hope that you have enjoyed the results.

Senior High Student Council

Always endeavoring to aid the student body in every possible way, The Senior High Council has successfully established itself as the servant of the students. Constant improvement of the school to the satisfaction of all is its goal. Under able leadership, the council has done much for the betterment of the school and to unite the student body.

The Guiding

Junior High Student Council

In September, with only two years of experience and high ideals, the Junior High Student Council launched its program for improving citizenship and school spirit. The homeroom representatives have emphasized the need for greater cooperation between student body and council. Striving individually, these representatives helped to unite our student body as a smoother and more workable group.

We look to these representative senior high students for guidance and help.

Glory, glory hallelujah, ... His truth is marching on. These inspiring phrases rang throughout the whole gym that fateful morning, bringing with them the tense excitement, the throbbing hearts, the crossed fingers. This marked the beginning for ten seniors—the beginning as a member of Myers Park's most esteemed club—The National Honor Society.

Each old member searched frantically through the throng of students, choosing his certain subject. A tap on the shoulder, the hopeful glance—some wishes answered . . . some not.

The Honor Society set up a scholarship to give to the most deserving members of the Senior Class. They have made plans for a Junior High Honor Society, and set up a Book Committee to increase our library collection. We are as proud of our Honor Society as its members are to belong to such an organization.

Key Club

. . . Developing Community Interest and Pride

"Say, Mister, can't this crate go any faster?" echoes a voice in back of the bus, "we'll never get to the football game at the rate we're going now!"

or . . .

"Sally, grab me one of those Key Club directories, too, I've been waitin' for them to come out so's I can send my Christmas cards."

or maybe this:

"Hello Joe, got a problem. Haven't the slightest idea what to wear to the Masquerade Ball tomorrow night, any suggestions?"

Chartering buses to out of town football games, publishing a school directory, sponsoring dances . . . All these things play a big role in the life of every high school boy and girl, and they are all projects of our own Key Club. This serviceable and honorable organization is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Charlotte, and its purpose is to train potential leaders of our community. Members of the Key Club learn of their prospective adult roles in life and the meaning of serviceable, aggressive citizenship which is necessary for the maintenance of our democracy.

The Key Club . . . a key to the door of leadership, initiative, and success in life.

Girls Ambassador Club

The Girls Ambassador Club was formed to offer service to our school and community. To carry out this aim, the members have promoted the writing of an Alma Mater, sponsored several open houses during the football season, and backed the subscription sale of the MYERS-PARK.

Community projects for the same period included selling flowers for the Disabled Veterans, collecting money for the March of Dimes, visiting the children at the Spastic's Hospital, and working for the United Appeal.

An Ambassador works for a worthy cause . . .

School and Community Service

Fourth row: Jane Patten, Lynne Reed, Jane Sawyer, Paula Weatherly, Nancy Adams, Ruth Dowdy, Nancy Sossoman, Rosalyn Podell, Sissy Riggsbee.

Successful projects are the end result of the interest, the enthusiasm generated by the club.

Boys Hi-Y Club

"How about buying a booster card for the football game Friday night?" asks one of the ambitious Hi-Y boys. The day before every football game this was a familiar plea, for all the Hi-Y boys were selling booster cards as a club project. These cards helped intensify school spirit and enthusiasm . . . one of the main objectives of this active group.

To round out their program, these 25 boys enter athletic events in competition with the other Charlotte Hi-Y's. They are indeed excellent contestants and Myers Park is proud to have them as representatives.

The goal of every Hi-Y member is clean speech, clean sport, clean scholarship, and clean living . . .

Play?

"Careful Cyrano, your nose may go yet!"

J. Macy, N. Macy, Forte, Smith

"To flee or not to flee? That is the problem."

"Curtain, please!"

Camera, lights, action! "Look like you love me, lug!"

"The Play's The Thing"

"You Can't Take It With You!" It's here to stay. What? The Masqueteers of Myers Park, its wonderful dramatics club. Having gone to the Carolina Dramatics Festival, they've won honorable mention twice. Recently they asked the public to "Meet Corless Archer," which they did quite readily. It could never have been surpassed by any play excepting perhaps their last year's hit "You Can't Take It With You."

Dr. W. W. Snyder has been the honorable director during their first semester work this year.

Masqueteers

First row: Joanna Risdon, Nancy Burton.

Second row: Babs Bluteau, Paula Weatherly, Dewey Helms, Ann Willingham, Hyman Field.

Third row: Edyth Johnson, Ann Harmon, Eddie Houston, Barbara Honey, Joan Ledford, Martha Ann Caldwell, Manley Springs.

Third row: Bobby Crocker, Eric Tulin, Fred Nordham, Frank Stack.

Distributive Education Club

Members of the Distributive Education Club are employed by Charlotte merchants in varied fields. Under the direction of Miss Ruth Burdette, the students have increased their knowledge and understanding of business problems through individual participation and visits to firms and plants.

A preparation for the future is the goal of all D. E. students.

First row: Phyllis Winters.
Second row: Jeanie Dean, Sue Blair, Mr. Matus, Advisor, Charlotte Alexander, Jo Ann Kendall, Susie Davis, Sarah Northington, Eleanor Taylor.
Third row: Betsy Richardson, Barbara Harris, Martha Slaughter, Susan Thomas, Mary Redding, Amelia Audrey.

Creativeness and Appreciation . . .

Palleteers

Buildings, trees, mountains—in fact, most anything might catch the interests of the budding artists at Myers Park. If you happen to be walking between the buildings during classes, you might see this industrious group seated on a bank sketching scenery.

Fortunately, the Palleteers do not keep all of their work entirely to themselves, but have shared their creations with the rest of the school by showing them in the display cases of L. A. These displays not only brighten our halls, but give us an idea of what our future artists of America are doing and learning. Under the direction of Mr. Matus, the Art Club members have broadened their understanding, creativeness, and appreciation.

Bible Club

Bound together in the name of Christ, the Serving Others Loyally Bible Club strives in Christian love to serve others. Gathering together in prayer meetings sponsored by our club, the group contributes to the spiritual welfare of the faculty and student body. In underprivileged homes and welfare groups, financial and spiritual help is given. The Club gains in Christian experience through its many speakers and annual retreats. With its doors ever open to new members, the Bible Club will always remain a symbol of Christian fellowship.

Each member of the Bible Club clasps a light, symbolic of Christ, the Light of the World.

The Chorus made their first appearance before the students this year at our annual Christmas Concert, given by the three musical organizations at Myers Park . . . This concert was such a big success that they decided to repeat the performance for the student body as their Christmas program which was to take place the following week. The holiday season saw the Chorus in the highlights many times, for they also sang at a P. T. A. meeting and a church service as well.

Future plans for the choral group include a program for the Rotary Club, another church service, participation in the City Festival, and placing an entry in the State Contest. Under the direction of Mr. Cronstedt, and with leaders like "Sossy", Carol, Larry, Tony, and Emilie, there is no stopping the chorus until it reaches the top of the ladder . . . the climb has been and will be long and hard, but where there's a will there's certainly a way . . . and if there's a way, Myers Park will find it!

If music be . . .

"Quiet, quiet! Now let's go through this once again. One and two and one and two and . . . ."

At first the work was discouraging . . . but through consistent effort, the members of the band became more proficient. Their work received excellent ratings in the State and District Contests and individual members were chosen to play in the All State Band. The Shrine Bowl Game and Carrousel parade plus all the M. P. H. football games were graced with their presence. Several enjoyable concerts were given for the public, and the spontaneous applause at the conclusion of each appearance was a source of gratification for the band.

ORCHESTRA

Myers Park High should really be proud of its orchestra! In spite of the short time the school has existed, our orchestra has accomplished more than almost any other in the state. Composed of junior and senior high musicians, it has won high honors in the State Rating Contest. The orchestra has also presented three concerts this year under the skillful direction of Mr. Helms.

Continued encouragement of our "whistle, blow, and scratch" organization will do much to put Myers Park in the spotlight.

... the food of love ... play on!

Life at Myers Park has not been all work and no play . . . the Dance Committee saw to that. These energetic workers planned our school dances, and decorated for them also. The Saturday afternoon before a big hop was always a busy day at school . . . crepe paper and balloons here, tables there, more scotch tape on the ceiling . . . but when the job was finally accomplished, our cafeteria looked so nice that the decorators felt it had been well worth the hours spent. Three entertaining dances were provided for us this year, each with a delightful program during intermission. Our Dance Committee has done everything in its power to make each dance an unforgettable memory—and we, the students of Myers Park, think they really did a grand job.

Library Assistants

Everybody is proud of the way the library assistants are keeping the library running so smoothly and efficiently.

Each library assistant has a definite duty. Some work at the desk, checking books and collecting fines, while others keep the books arranged in proper order on the shelves, so that we may find them more readily.

Because of their efficient work we have been able to utilize the library to its fullest extent.

Senior High Cheerleaders

"M-M-M-U-S-T-A-N-G-S, Mustangs, Fight!
Yes, Fight Mustangs. Win this Game."

Resounding in the stadium or gym these words have spurred our teams on to victory. Leading the student body in cheers were the dependable, well-organized cheerleaders. Nine girls with their patience, practice, and school spirit helped to insure our victories. Myers Park could not have done without such a fine group.

Junior High Cheerleaders have put forth vim, vigor, and vitality to increase the spirit which produces not only championship teams but also championship spirit among the students.

Continuous hard work and co-operation among the "green" inexperienced girls and the "old hands" have produced a group of which the Junior High can be proud.

SENIOR HIGH

The improved version of the Myers Park Mustangs, under the capable leadership of coaches Gus Purcell and John Pyron, came up with an impressive record of five wins and five losses, and third place in the Greater Charlotte AA Conference.

The Mustangs opened their season against North High and were overpowered by the Rebels, 14-7, with David Busbin and Kenny Foard running very well for the Mustangs.

Following the pattern of the week before, the Mustangs met defeat at the hands of Monroe, 13-6.

Myers Park tasted victory for the first time as they beat East High 13-7. After a slow start the Mustangs caught fire with a 78 yard run by Foard. Eddie Lowe, Gregory LeNeave, and Paul Biggers led the way in the line.

Harding, the State AA champions, defeated the Mustangs in the following game. But the Mustangs were not to be discouraged and in their next game turned loose a bevy of fast-stepping backs and supporting students on China Grove to trounce them 28-6. Kenny Foard, Ernest Young, and John Black all made long runs for touchdowns with Larry Harris adding the extra points.

After a loss to unbeaten Albemarle, Myers Park on Tech High in our Homecoming game. After an uneventful first half Jimmy Jones scored and Larry Harris made the extra point for the winning margin. Dee Dee Matthews was a big gun on offense with Burwell Shore, George Wray, and Jerry Greene leading the M. P. defense.

Myers Park received an unexpected licking from Lincolnton in the next game. After the ground attack failed, the Mustangs took to the air and completed 6 passes out of 12 for 105 yards with Jones, Black, and Foard doing the throwing.

Capitalizing on good blocking, the Mustangs clobbered West High, 36-0. Kenny Foard and Dee Dee Matthews rolled up most of the yardage with Burwell Shore, Eddie Lowe, Gregory LeNeave, and a host of others leading the way in the line. Everybody got in on the rack and played their best in the last game of the season. All Myers Park is hoping for even better seasons in the future.

JUNIOR HIGH

The Junior High Football Team, led by the new coach, Tom Braaten, won the City Championship with a record of three wins, one loss, and two ties.

The squad opened its season on October 3 against A. G. with the game ending in a 6-6 tie. Then on October 8, they rolled over Tech by a 26-6 margin. They next defeated Piedmont 13 to 6.

The Colts suffered their lone defeat at the hands of Harding 12 to 0. On October 29 they again met A. G. in a heartbreaking scoreless tie. The Juniors ended the season by again beating Tech 13-0.

Ed Gallagher paced the year's scoring with 36 points. He was the big gun both in points and yards for the Colts. Stuart Cook with 16 points and Larry Rogers with 6 points figured in the Colt gridiron parade also.

The team spirit displayed throughout the season by the entire squad, played an important part in making the dream of a city championship become a reality.

Myers Park Track Team—1953

In 1953 their second year of track competition, the Myers Park Mustangs, coached by Mr. Bill Thomason, turned up with a mediocre season.

They lost to Central High in a dual meet, took a third behind Central and North in the City-County meet, and came in second in a triangular contest with North and Tech. They then went out of town to take their first and last win from Hickory and Cherryville. In the GCAA meet at Davidson they took another third, behind East and North. Trailing behind Central, Salisbury-Boyden, and Burlington-Williams, they tied for a fourth place with East High in the Queen City Relays. At the state meet in Chapel Hill they took a seventh place resulting from two seconds taken by Vance Houston.

The Mustangs were sparked by Vance Houston, a fleet-footed sophomore, who scored slightly more than thirty-eight percent of the team's points, 73 out of 192. Houston won the 100 yard dash four times, tied for first once, and took seconds twice.

Lettering in 1953 were Houston, Bachman Doar, Chuck Nesbit, Norman Purdue, Jim Malcolm, Leon Bailey, Bill Graham, Ray Linker, Earnest Young, and Ken Foard.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

November 29, 1953, fifty girls came out for basketball, hoping to qualify for either the "A" or "B" teams. These girls all worked hard, but as natural, some exceeded others and some dropped out. The group was then cut, leaving thirty-five girls. Twelve of these would make the "A" team, the rest the "B".

Under Miss Hilda Scott, coach, and Miss Betsy Norwood, assistant coach, these girls practiced hard each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday on different plays, shots and drills.

Finally the "A" team was picked. The girls who made forward were: Catherine Brown, Mary Catherine Jones, Carole Knight, Connie Lucas, Margaret Martin, and Lynne Reid. Nancy Davis, Diana Ervin, Elizabeth Glover, Mary Redding, Bee Robertson, and Linda Walker were chosen as guards.

History of the Class of 1954

A class of sophomores congregated in the Myers Park High School Library Wednesday, September 5, 1951. Although puzzled expressions were evidence of extremely mixed emotions, there was one common feeling of pride among the group. We, the Class of '54, will be the first real graduating class of Myers Park High School. We received our homeroom assignments and attempted to translate the unique code of letters and numbers which symbolized the location of our homerooms, in order that we might become acquainted with fresh facilities, furnishings, and faculty faces.

That first day at Myers Park is very clear to me, yet I find it rather difficult to recall all the important events of my high school career. This morning as I glanced through my high school souvenirs, I discovered a solution to my problem, a bundle of newspapers, slightly brown with age. In Volumes I, II, and III of the "MyerSpark," I have an accurate record of the progress of the Class of '54. Let's explore this pile of papers and see what amazing facts we can uncover.

The first issue of the "MyerSpark" headlines—"Student Body Elects Senior High Officers"—In Myers Park's first student election we, the lowly sophomores, had an unusual privilege. A member of our class, Gerrii Smith, was elected secretary of the Student Council. This election was preparation for mammoth tasks, such as, the composition of a constitution which would be followed for many years to come, the passing of rules which would govern the entire student body, and the establishment of precedents which would be handed down from year to year. Because our class was much larger than the other two senior high classes combined, our voice was extremely decisive in carrying out the tasks of organization which would so greatly influence future generations of M. P. students.

Let's thumb through some more papers and study our class's organization and progress during its pioneering days. Here we are: "Sophomore Class Elects Officers." It looks as though our rapid success and prompt formation should be attributed to our competent class officers, Jack Farris, Johnny Council, Mary Jane Suttle, and Jane Sawyer, president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively. Although some of the new MP sophomores became hopelessly lost and bitterly discouraged in the whirlwind of confusion, they soon found themselves by following the course charted by a well co-ordinated class.

By exercising their well defined initiative, sophomores again played a large part in the organization of necessary student functions. A story announcing Myers Park's first cheerleading squad reveals that of the nine cheerleaders elected five were sophomores. How well we can picture Edith Hall, Barbara Allen, Ann Harmon, Nancy Green, and Beverly Senna putting forth every effort to prove to other schools that a new school can have school spirit, too.

A lead from a story headed "Class Beauties Elected" states: "Edith Hall and Gerrii Smith have been chosen to represent the sophomore class in the beauty section of the Mustang." We sophomores seem to have had an abundant supply of beauty as well as leadership.

Pictures of the Valentine Dance reveal that Gerrii Smith has done it again. As attendant to the Valentine Queen, Gerrii represented the sophomore class in another school-wide event. Sophomores, though young, seem to have formed a habit of frequent participation in school-wide events. Such experience proved highly profitable for students planning to spend two more years molding a school's character.

With the aid of the "MyerSpark" that unforgettable sophomore year is beginning to form a very clear picture in our minds. We were truly pioneers, organizing student government and clubs, guinea pigs in two hour classes, bewildered individuals on A and B days, and victims of new regulations and much undue criticism.

To continue our exploration, let's see what events Volume II can bring to light. "Volume II, Thursday, September 4, Number 1"—Suddenly we can visualize that first day of our junior year. With the air of experienced veterans, we assembled in front of the cafeteria terrace to receive instructions and assignments. As a matter of fact, it was during this very gathering that I received this copy of the "MyerSpark."

Glancing over the lead story we well remember the controversy it caused. The six dollar activity ticket was a headache for everyone, those selling, those buying, and those who had already spent the funds which the ticket did not bring in. Along with activity ticket plans, the "Spark" also published a letter to the student body reviewing Student Council plans for the year. In this letter the Student Council president recognized Nancy McIntyre and Jimmy Jones, secretary and treasurer of the Student Council, for their contributions in pre-school planning.

That year our class proved that we were also unselfish. We consented to share many of our talented juniors with the rest of the school. We not only lent Jimmy and Nancy to the Student Council, but also supplied five members of the cheerleading squad. This picture reveals that Barbara Allen, Nancy Green, Martha Ann Caldwell, Beverly Senna, and Ann Harmon were among those sparking the Mustang spirit.

According to some of these heads, MP juniors were certainly collecting some honors—"Edith Hall named Carrousel Queen," "Catherine Brown Elected Homecoming Queen", "Queen Attended by Annette Shaw and Barbara Honey." It looks as though Jerry Greene, Mr. Myers Park, must also be classified among the honorees. The class of '54 bloomed with royalty that year.

We are pleased to see that our class continued to make headlines—"Junior Class Officers Convene." Accompanying fleeting glimpses of the junior class's schedule of events are recollections of the diligent work done by our class officers as they carried out their important tasks and worthwhile projects. We will always cherish the memories of our colossal junior class follies and beautiful junior-senior. How could we forget Henry Swanzey, our hilarious follies master of ceremonies, and our realistic prom garden in the rain? Vice-president, Barbara Allen, secretary, Beverly Senna, and treasurer, Jimmy McCane, joined forces with President, Mary Jane Suttle to lead us through a most successful year.

Reviewing annual plans, we have discovered that history repeats itself. Edith Hall was elected once more to furnish the junior class's share of beauty in the annual.

As we study the photograph of our new gymnasium, we recall the pride we felt when we witnessed another portion of the blueprint for the South's most modern school come to life. Eagerly and extremely impatiently we awaited the opening of our new gymnasium. As we reminisce we are amazed at our numerous accomplishments in the field of athletics during our pre-gymnasium days.

Stories covering the election of junior marshals and conference delegates and the presentation of awards signifies that our study of the MyerSpark is nearing the final issues of Volume II and the closing weeks of our memorable junior year.

"Yarborough Goes Girls' State," Mary Brooks Yarborough was chosen to represent Myers Park at Girls' State. Bob Oliver, Larry Harris, and Bachman Doar were among the delegates attending Boys' State. As high school juniors, we were asked to select several members of our class, on the basis of outstanding leadership, to attend Girls' and Boys' State. As seniors our four delegates returned to Myers Park with a broader understanding of our state government and its functions.

Here is an article on the Harvard Book Award presented to a junior for outstanding scholarship. We well remember how pleased we were when it was presented to Giles Floyd.

Reading the story of the junior marshals brings to mind the indescribable feeling which crept over those of us who watched chief marshals, Barbara Allen and Jack Farris, lead the graduation procession of the Class of '53. We felt sad realizing that many of our friends were leaving us; nevertheless we also felt proud anticipating that long awaited senior year.

In the fall of our senior year, the excitement ran high as usual, but the sophisticated seniors were able to curb their exuberance. After two years of experience, we quickly settled down in order to make the most of our senior year. Movements to carry out the many jobs which rested upon our shoulders, were rapidly underway.

"President Farris Announces Senior Plans"—In the September 1 issue of the 'Spark appeared an outline of class plans for the year. The year's schedule seems to be proof of thoughtful class organization and capable officers. According to the 'Spark Jack was assisted by Bob Oliver, vice-president; Gerrii Smith, secretary; and Tommy Hayden, treasurer. Yes, we put the right foot forward and were traveling at a much swifter pace than the classes preceding us.

As we review the 1953-54 expectations of the Student Council, we conclude that it was certainly imitating our class's pace. The generous loan which we made to the student body in '52 became a permanent one. Jimmy Jones, president of the Student Council, became first man in MP's lineup of high school students. Aiding Jimmy in retaining his number one position was Ann Harmon, Student Council "veep".

Glancing through these stories covering the organization and plans of outstanding school clubs, we recall the worthwhile extra-curricular activities which were offered the members of our class. Wise decisions in the election of club presidents is good explanation for the overwhelming success of our student organizations. The 'Spark announced Key Club plans released by David Bradford or Monogram Club plans disclosed by Jerry Greene. It also quoted Honor Society plans explained by Charles Horne and Girl Ambassador plans announced by Tog Sanders. That year we discovered the real meaning of strong student organizations—unification of the school, goals to encourage students to work, dependable means of supporting school campaigns.

According to this article concerning cheerleader anticipation for 1953-54, a wise selection of cheerleaders verifies that old adage, "Experience is the best teacher." Ann Harmon, Nancy Green, Martha Ann Caldwell, and Barbara Allen presented a repeat performance to represent the senior class on the cheer leading squad.

Headlines: "MP Students Active in Civic Undertakings"—In the fall of our senior year, we decided to expand our scope of outside activities. We elected a Carrousel Queen and eight Junior Rotarians to represent MP in community enterprises. Harriett Hord, Betts Huntley, David Bradford, Jack Farris, Bob Oliver, Tommy Hayden, Jerry Greene, Bachman Doar, and Jimmy Jones ventured into the public eye to add new meaning to the name Myers Park High School.

Homecoming festivity announcements bring to mind recollections of the first school dance of our senior year where males discovered that "You've got to be a football hero to get along with a beautiful girl." A picture of the Homecoming Queen's attendants includes Jane Dickson and Mary Jane Suttle with smiles radiating all of the old Mustang homecoming spirit. This rousing spirit became highly contagious as the Mustangs celebrated a 7 to 6 homecoming victory over Tech.

In recognition for admirable qualities and outstanding school service several senior girls were selected by their fellow classmates to receive various awards. Headlines: "Nancy McIntyre DAR Award Winner"—"Gerrii Smith Named Miss Hi Miss"—We, the seniors, chose to honor these two girls for their innumerable accomplishments during Myers Park's three years of existence.

A summary of sports events reveals that our 1953 football season included five wins and five losses. Accompanying the story is a picture of three boys proudly displaying trophies which they so justly deserved. The cutline reads: "Left to right are Jimmy Jones, MP's most outstanding back, Kenny Foard, MP's most valuable player and Larry Harris, MP's most outstanding lineman."

Thumbing through Volume III, it has been particularly interesting to follow the work of The Mustang which was skillfully directed by "Buck" Van Every, editor. We are indeed indebted to the well co-ordinated staff of the '54 Mustang for supplying us with a valuable record of our most memorable year in our high school life.

Stories describing the sundial left by the Class of '54 and features revealing senior plans for the future indicated that our study of the accomplishments of the Class of '54 will soon be concluded. As graduation drew near we suddenly became aware of the numerous responsibilities which had rested and would rest in the future on our shoulders. As the first class to complete three high school years at Myers Park, we had set the pace for succeeding classes. We suddenly realized that as individuals our post-graduation accomplishments would reflect the success of a new high school. We had met the challenge of organizing a new high school; we now faced an even greater challenge of proving that we had been sufficiently prepared for our tasks of the future.

MyerSpark Volumes I, II, and III brought to light many interesting occurrences during our high school careers. Yet, these events which are recorded in black and white are not the only happenings which come to mind as we explore our high school memories. "The little things" which aren't recorded in school papers are to us a very important part of our high school years. How could we forget the messy journey from SC 1 to B 4 on rainy days . . . the bunny hop sessions at lunch . . . the Key Club sponsored caravans to football games . . . the Spring Carnivals . . . the venitian blind scandal . . . that familiar voice heard every Saturday over WIST, "This is Nancy Green from Myers Park" . . . riotous rebellions in the library . . . the wonderful school dances . . . the crowded parking lot on Fridays . . . the meaning of four tardies . . . the bird burying debate . . . detailed business meetings conducted during five minute homeroom periods . . . open houses sponsored by the Girl Ambassadors . . . important bulletin announcements which we never heard . . . Chaucer . . . cowboy and gangster days . . . Miss Markham's College Algebra classes . . . our senior banquet . . . We cannot forget these small things nor the more important ones because they were the high lights of our lives for three unforgettable years at Myers Park High.

Last Will and Testament

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA
COUNTY OF MECKLENBURG
CITY OF CHARLOTTE

We, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-four, of said city, county, and state, being of sound and disposing mind and bearing the distinction of being the first such group to complete successfully three rigorous years at Myers Park High School, do make and establish this as our last will and testament.

We, realizing we possess such outstanding genius and talent, wish our executor, as soon as possible after our departure, to dispose of said genius and talent as follows:

ARTICLE I
To The Faculty

1. To Dr. John E. French we express our gratitude for his helpfulness, willingness, cooperation, endless patience, and ever-present smile and friendly greeting. We also add our appreciation for his words of wisdom and guidance.

2. To Mr. J. Porter Sheppard we leave our thanks for his "rule with an iron hand," hoping our successors will not be so time-consuming as we.

3. To the entire faculty go our heartfelt esteem and humility for their kind understanding and advice.

ARTICLE II
To The Underclassmen

ITEMS:

1. To the juniors we entrust the care and responsibility of being seniors, knowing they will occupy this honored position well and will have as many pleasant memories to look back upon as we.

2. To the remainder of the student body we leave Myers Park, envisioning the meaning it will someday possess for each one.

ARTICLE III
To Individuals

ITEMS:

1. We, Jane Townend and Jane Dickson, leave all our paints, palettes, and artistic devices for obtaining school publicity to Charlotte Alexander and Darla Burke with every good wish that their originality be as keen as ours.

2. I, Sylvia Galloway, bequeath my demure, charming manner to Susie Davis.

3. I, David Reid, will my spontaneity to Menard Hays, a "ball of fire" himself.

4. I, Gladys Culton, will my superior scholastic ability and surplus number of A's to June-Tweed Shore, who also seems very self-sufficient.

5. We, Jimmy Harris and Barbara Lisk, leave our Charleston technique to the most apt "flappers" of next year's class.

6. I, "Tog" Sanders, bequeath my ability to become president of any organization to which I belong to anyone possessing such a talent as mine.

7. I, Henry "The Thinker" Swanzey, leave my inevitable class remarks and ability to talk myself out of things as well as into them to Elliott Schwartz.

8. I, Tommy "T" Nash, will to Philip Williams my irresistible smile and personality.

9. I, June Ballard, will my Southern drawl to Suzanne Ross and Mary Frances Winborne, who already uphold the Rebel characteristics in the best tradition.

10. I, Gerrii Smith, bequeath the many titles I have captured and the modesty I have managed to retain to Sally Forte.

11. We, Bobby Sloan and Ronnie Hunter, leave our happy-go-lucky nature to Paul Poley and John Black, hoping they may be as lucky as they are happy.

12. We, Martha Slaughter and Phyllis Winters, leave with our jewel-encrusted "frat" pins.

13. I, Annette Shaw, bequeath my "scrubbed" look and neat appearance to Millicent Lawrence.

14. I, Charles Horne, will to Frank Jordan

my intelligence, presence of mind, and correct answers to all questions.

15. We, Kay Covington and Susie Morrison, leave our fond desire for fun and a good time at all times to Rita Parrish and Willie Wilkinson.

16. I, Jimmy Jones, at the end of the Congressional year, come down out of the clouds once more to instruct next year's president on the use and know-how of James's Rules of Order."

17. We, Susan Pollock and Edith Hall, bequeath our "dreamgirl" beauty to Linda Cutter.

18. We, Ann "Sodie" Harmon and Bob Oliver, leave our quick wit and tendency to be "the life of the party" to Joe Norman and Mary Jane Mayhew.

19. I, Carol "Sweetheart" Neithardt, will my long, ever-changing list of beaus to Sandra Goodman with the prerequisite that she have at least ONE new flame a week.

20. I, Giles Floyd, bequeath my intimate association with cathode rays to Chuck Nisbet with the express belief that he will have as much enjoyment alternating current as I have.

21. We, "Kacy" Cooper and Patricia Pipkin, bequeath to Lillian Foote and Ann Willingham our humor, artistry, imagination, and other innumerable talents.

22. I, Harriett Hord, will my queenly crowns to Tucker Everett, whose head they should fit.

23. I, Nancy Green, leave my untiring efforts for the athletic teams and my beaten path to "Coach's" door to Linda Walker.

24. I, Emilie "Oh Johnny" Armstrong, bequeath my entertainment for any and every talent scout to Nancy Cochran and Linda Reid.

25. I, Jack Farris, leave my service to the school and the senior class in particular to Bob Huffaker, who already has quite a record with the junior class.

26. I, Patricia Ann Morris, leave by the quickest route for the KA house at Washington and Lee.

27. I, Mary Gilmer, will my title of "Fashion Plate" to Lillian Shannonhouse, who will have a hard time keeping up with the pace I have set.

28. We, Charles Lewis and Tommy Hayden, bequeath our towering stature and supreme superiority to Woody Burns and Tony Gill with hopes that they will use them to best advantage.

29. I, Lawrence "Hot-rod" Burton, will my love for the "Golden Limousine" to Jane Williamson, who also has spent much time in it.

30. I, Edith MacKinnon, leave to the struggling young poets of the rising senior class my ability to compete with Geoffrey himself.

31 We, Barbara Harris and "Mike" Templeton, bequeath our photogenic countenances to anyone with the necessary patience, endurance, and foam rubber cushions.

32. I, Tony Guiles, leave a golden-throated baritone to Don Denton in hopes that it will enhance next year's chorus.

33. I, Mademoiselle Nicky Macy, will my mastery of the Queen's French to Sarah Northington.

34. I, Sissy Riggsbee, bequeath my efficient ways to a junior namesake, Sissy McNinch.

35. We, Helena Colyer, Leon Bailey, and Bill Graham, leave the flamin' tresses by which we are so easily identified to David Busbin.

36. I, Nancy McIntyre, will my sunny disposition and leadership to Betsy Smith.

37. We, Walter Summerville, Buzzy Basinger and Gene Lookabill, leave our "wearin' o' the green" to Al Harris.

38. I, Barbara Allen, bequeath my vivaciousness and school spirit to Connie Bernstein.

39. We, "Ricky" Booth and Jane Patten, will our senior dignity to Barbara Libby and David Pearsall.

40. I, "Buck" Van Every, with great reluctance, leave behind the many long hours of work on the MUSTANG.

41. We, Martha Ann Caldwell and Mary Jane Suttle will the qualities which seem to win and break so many hearts to Frances DeArmon and Mary Lois Eskridge, who certainly need no Cupid.

42. I, Eddie "The Wizard" Houston, bequeath my ability to have the last word in any situation to Mason Chrisman, whose debating proficiency needs bolstering.

43. I, Phyllis Ashendorf, leave my flawless "Lux-care" complexion to Helen Greene.

44. We, Nancy Burton and Emily Killingsworth, leave our smiles to Marsha Tuttle and Kay Johansen, who seem to have the qualifying propensities.

45. We, Betts Huntley and Gus Deal, will our Bible Club interests to Cornie Riviere and Susan Purser, and with these interests go the meaning which the club has held for us.

46. I, "Joey" Allen, bequeath my majorette uniform and success at making a "hit" to Carol Reech.

47. We, Lynne Reed, Mary Redding, and Nancy Davis, leave our varied interests and capacities to Mary Catherine Jones, Elizabeth Glover, and Marilyn Mallard.

48. I, "Kenny" Green, leave my excessive pep and energy to Charlie Overcash.

49. I, Joe "Flash" Boston, bequeath all my used flash-bulbs to Jimmy Lee.

50. We, Greg LeNeave and Kenny Foard, will our prodigious display of athletic skill to Dee Dee Matthews and Paul Biggers.

51. We, Nancy Adams and Catherine Brown, leave our Venus likenesses to Dina Brown and Carolyn Hilker, who surely must have the same will power and access to Charles of the Ritz as we.

52. We, the Class of '54, leave with nostalgic feelings our high school days, research themes, Senior Follies, mistakes, and accomplishments, knowing full well that these days may never be equaled.

Class Prophecy

"All the world's a stage,
And all the men and women merely players:
They have their exits and their entrances;"
Shakespeare

Before the members of the third graduating class of Myers Park remove their persons from this venerable institution of higher learning, let's pull back the curtain of the future and see what worlds remain for them to conquer. Who will be the Lawrence Oliviers, Jerry Lewises, Gene Autrys and Martha Rays of 1975? Come with me now to Nov. 8, 1975, and see what is "going on around the wicked city."

THE THEATER PLAYS

1st STREET THEATRE—Doris McCraw in "The Banker of Lover's Retreat," the original role which she created in her climb from water girl at the Lover's Bank to president of that concern.

2nd STREET THEATRE—Barbara Lisk stars in this three-act comedy of her life as the world's most renowned fur connoisseur.

The directors of the play, "Make Mine Skunk," are Martha Ann Caldwell and Ann Harmon, who just returned from the summer circuit in Austruvia, the land around the corner.

3rd STREET—Jimmy Jones appears in the spine-chilling adventures of a singing missionary to the Podunk Congo entitled "Down Among the Sheltering Tribes."

4th STREET—Jimmy Harris re-creates his original role of Vudolph Ralentino, in "Third Cousin Twice-Removed of the Shiek."

The movie was not passed by the E. Houston - B. Trimble Census Bureau, which passes on all movies.

5th STREET—"Charles Lewis Taught me to Dance in Just 11,947 Lessons," stars Charles Lewis as the master of the World-Wide Dance Studios.

Jane Patten, writer of the lyrics of the show's hit song, "You too can Dance if You Have Three Feet," and Daisy Hicks, composer of the music, make guest appearances at the theater on Monday evenings.

6th STREET—Barbara Honey, who discovered the method of cooking spaghetti that curls, appears in the epic of her life as restaurant chain owner, "If you knew cooking like I know cooking you would eat as a 'Honey Bee'."

7th STREET—Due to the vacation of the star Bob Oliver, who is at the West Pole, the saga of his inventing a new type of "rapid" ice cream freezer will not begin until March. Bob is visiting his associate, Dr. Billy Nebel, who is currently developing dehydrated snowballs.

At the present time John Procter, owner of the world's largest farm implement firm, is making his debut in "There's No Business Like the Hoe Business."

8th STREET—"I go Hobo" with Jane Dickson, the creator of Hobo, the talking poodle of the comic strips. This play took first prize in the contest to find the comic strip poodle that uses the most correct English.

Gladys Culton and Charles Horne, co-directors of the League for Better Use of English in the Comic Strips, directed the contest.

9th STREET—Edith MacKinnon, the flag pole sitter who rose to fame by breaking universe flag pole sitting records, appears in the epic of her life, "Above and Beyond."

Miss MacKinnon revealed that she has recently been involved in strong arguments with Dan Moffat, president of the Birds' Protective Society.

Miss MacKinnon also said she prefers R. Stern-K. Gray Flag Poles over any other poles.

10th STREET—Mary Lance Van Every, first woman to swim the Atlantic Ocean at high tide, has consented to leave her husband and six children to appear in "Study of Seaweed."

11th STREET—Since David Bradford left the States to practice lawlessness in the province of Licti Bibble, he has become, in his spare time, the tiddle-dy-winks champion of that area.

David's Coach Ronnie Hunter, retired jeep manufacturing magnate, boasts that David can tiddle-dy more winks than Ali Baba and his thirty-nine plus one.

12th STREET—The lead of "Anthony and Clementine" is held by Tony Guiles. This saga of laughter and tears follows Tony as he hunts chalk dust in the hills of Briar Creek.

The show's producer, Frank Stack, was fortunate in securing the imminent Hungarian actress, Margareto Timmermanski, to portray Clementine.

13th STREET—Jack Weil, the imminent hair stylist began a new style when he performed the pup cut on Nancy McIntyre, well-known dramatic actress. Nancy scored her first triumph in "Heel and Soul," written by celebrated author Kellis Williard.

14th STREET—Nancy Graham, highest paid model at the W. Mason-McNealy model agency whose models show artificial upper and lower chompers, is spending her vacation in Metroit, Dichigan.

Nancy is staying in the Metroit hotel of the chain owned by Lindsey and Nordman. At the hotel Nancy appears in "Toothy Interlude," in the Chartreuse Room each evening.

15th STREET—Mike Templeton, the world famous chemist who produced "wolg," glow spelled backwards—the product that glorifies women's hair—is preparing for her stage debut in "Fuzzy Top."

Giles Floyd in whose beauty salons "wolg" is used exclusively will co-star in the play.

16th STREET—For one week only, Tommy Hayden, the architect, will be in "Fresh Air," his life story. Tommy invented air conditioned kennels for grey-blooded redhounds.

Gilda Craver, millionaire investor who found her money in the ten cent store, uses Hayden Kennels and George Wray tail shortening application for all of her prize-losing redhounds.

17th STREET—Faye Jenny, composer of the hit song, "Drink to me only with Justin Hendrix punch," has sold the rights for a movie of her illustrious career to the L. Harris-J. Kiser Movie Company.

Faye was recently cured of itusgiggle (a serious attack of the giggles) by Dr. Carol Knight, imminent laugh specialist.

18th STREET—The editor, Jean Holland, of the "Ninety-Six"—the magazine for the older set—has recently returned from abroad.

While away, she interviewed Hyman Field and Bill Harding, the economists who have gone to Turkey to see if they can buy turkeys cheaper there. Hyman and Bill return to the Country soon to co-star in "Fowl Language."

19th STREET—Sandra Carpenter, world's fastest typist, opens in December in "The Typewriter."

Sandra received her training at the Catherine Brown-Gerrii Smith Typing School where students can learn to type 1500 words per second.

This exclusive typing school, Tabulator Bar, is located in one of the city's most modern business districts—the Fishchrupp.

The school is located between Keen's Shoe Shoppe and Ann Carol's restaurant, the Brown Stetson.

20th STREET—Ricky Booth, former historian at Tear University, founded by the famous educator, "Rip" Bass, has been in New Orleans for the past ten years searching for the birth certificate of the Blues. He returns soon to open in the "Big Try."

NIGHT LIFE

Big and Brassy

FROST GARDEN—Bobby Crocker, owner of the world's largest ice cream shop, which seats 11,111 customers, has invited all members of the class of '54 to a reunion to be held January 1, 1976.

Hostess for the spectacular event will be Deanie Ashendorf, famed woman commentator, who officiates at the largest tobacco auctions.

Featured at the reunion will be the well-known sextet composed of Barbara Allen, Carol Neithardt, C. W. Pendarvis, Pat Kendrick, Edythe Johnson, and Nancy Green. The "Sensational Six," as they are billed, were discovered on Arthur Dancy's Talent Sprout Show sponsored by Dripton Tea.

Small and Cheerful

THE CLAUDIA COTTON HOTEL—Named for the founder, this hotel rated tops with the Gus Deal Hotel Guild.

Each evening Kacy Cooper, famed ventriloquist of stage, screen, television, and radar, performs in the Green Room, named for the hotel's chief chef, Jerry Green.

THE KILLINGSWORTH ARMS — features the newest Spanish dance team of Stone and Pipkin, who combine ballet and soft shoe.

Dine to the music of Terry Wood and his Sharp Seven.

LOOKABILL'S CAPRICE—Emily Armstrong, commediene-pianist, continues to entrance audiences, including statues.

THE CAMILLE—Managed by Camille Pilcher is still crowded each evening as guests marvel at the sensational brother acrobatic team of Reid and Reed (David and Mike).

DINING AND DANCING

THE MIRIAM SCRUGGS CASINO—Modern jazz interpreted by Henry Swanzey and his fast-feet-five who furnish music for dancing.

The Club attracts large crowds which hear the smooth tones of yodeler Bob Smathers.

Music furnished by Betts Huntley and the Sunshine Comb Players.

THE LUPO-LE—Jane Townend's zither music is modern but not jazzy. She and her trio, Diana Stampley, Jane Sawyer, and Sissy Riggsbee, furnish smooth evening serenades.

ART

LANNIN GALLERY—Built by Jack Lannin, owner of the Lannin-strike Cigarette Corporation. This week, the development of Art in Castoria County.

Exhibited by art promoter Susie Morrison, are creations by two of Castoria's most soughtafter artists, Phyllis Winters, and Evelyn Staten.

SUE BLAIR MUSEUM OF ANCIENT ART —A winter show of oils by Martha Slaughter and Barbara Harris, world-recognized painters. Both were members of the Myers Park High School Art Department in a former era. This display continues through February.

SPORTS

BOXING AT DIXIE STADIUM—Doug Little and Wil McNeary meet next Monday in a bout for the heavy-lightweight middle-sized title of the neighborhood.

TENNIS AT OYSTER SHELL TENNIS CLUB—West Dakota's Tennis match for those young ladies over seventy begins Friday. Virginia Forehand, Lynne Reed, and Suzanne Stanley are the favorites.

POLO AT FRAZIER FIELD—The teams, coached by Bee Robertson and Judy Young, will meet in morsel combat.

The riders will be astride Shetland ponies raised on Gregory LeNeave's Death Valley Pony Farm.

Tickets are now on sale at Mary Jane Suttle's "French Hat Shoppe."

UP AND DOWN COLISEUM—A contest is now underway to find the earth's fastest pair of lady see-sawers. Finalists are Tog Sanders, Joan Ledford, and Harriett Hord, Joey Allen. The final contest will be bumped off next week.

We have peeked together through the curtain to watch the lives of our classmates unfolding before the audience of eternity.

But we had better leave now, before the play's director finds us and shoves us out the stage door of the future. We must wait for Director Time to reveal his great drama when and how he pleases.

SPRADRI

A Water Displacing Chemical

HOW IT WORKS

With Rust Inhibitor & Preservative

Pa.ent No. 2647839

SPRADRI penetrates below damp or wet surfaces, creeping into pores and crevices, displacing and driving out water or moisture, leaving a microscopic, molecular film. This film is transparent, non-toxic, water repellant and rust preventive. When applied, SPRADRI drives away moisture, leaving a dry surface with no gummy, sticky or plastic coating.

USED FOR

SPRADRI was developed to aid in controlling detrimental moisture in industry, mobile equipment, power plants, communication equipment, farm machinery, machine tools and precision instruments and parts.

Prized sports equipment dried out and protected fram rust with a few squirts af SPRADRI.

Autos, trucks, and buses started quickly when stalled by flash flaods or condensation. An application protects against moisture far a lang period of time.

The Mustinger

VOLUME WON + MIZE POK + THE ONLI WUN

Published this once to present some of the fads and foibles of the faculty . . . the stunning stupidity of the seniors . . . hilarious hijinks of higher education . . . it's the pepper that adds pungency to the potpourri.

School Board Has Plan For Avoiding Confusion

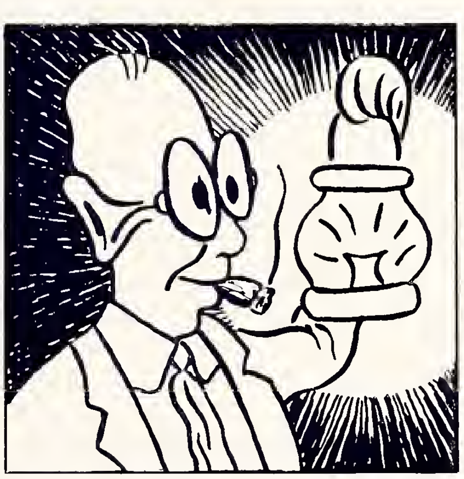
"This problem has had my deepest consideration and I have the solution right at my finger tips," said Ace Poker, Chairman of the Bored Schule, as he called the meeting to disorder, "you gotter stack'en.

What I mean is, all students can't be aces, we got a full house, so we gotter beat it with a stacked straight flush."

Mr. Poker went on to elaborate in considerable detail his plan for solving the crowded conditions existing in the Mize Pok School. He explained that the school should be equipped with desks stacked one on top of each other to a height of five desks. Aye pupils would seat in the lowest deck, Bees in the second, Cees in the third, Dese (not Dose) in the fourth and Effs on dee top of the deck. Thus, space that ordinarily is used only for air would be available for education. It would also have a tendency to make parents much happier as it would level out the standing of all students. Pupils in the higher education grades would have the lower grades in the classrooms and the pupils in the lower education grades would be nearer the ceiling. This type of leveling is quite in the Democratic taditions. If you wanner win you gotter stack'em.

MUSTINGER WINS AWARD FOR HONESTY IN REPORTING

The Phew-Lights-Err Award, called light because it carries little weight in the journalistic field, goes this year to the Mustinger, a scandal sheet. This publication is noted city-wide for un-school-like interest.



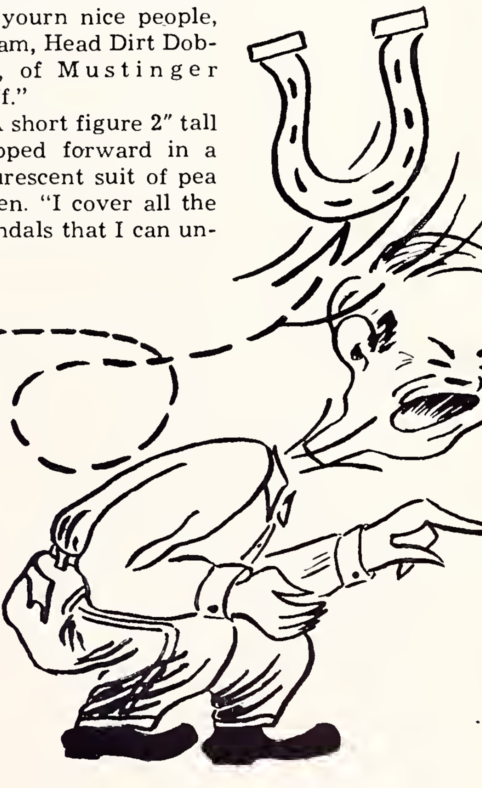
In making the award Sir Oiliwick DioGenes, a thirteenth cousin twelve times removed of Lord Fewdarder, who created the Phew Lightser award stated "I am completely at a loss for words. Nonchalantly nonplussed eagerly endeavored to anticipate the paucity of properly pronounced pronouns. Amalgamating ampers & dem&s this Br& of ampers&paper. Etaion shrdlu . . .

Stinger Stingaree, noted scandal—seeking editor of the Mustinger, accepted the award with a spirited display of delight. "At last my snooping eye and ear has paid off," he muttered to himself as he quickly grabbed and clutched the award to his breast. As the crys of "bravo" came from the crowd Stingaree exclaimed he had been working since the beginning of time as a scandal seeker with a scandal seeking crew to win this scandalous award. He said "None editors on this here earth or any other planet in this here universe feels more proudly scandalously than me becus this here award carries none weight in thar field of mine competitors who are journalicimists. I left that thar field bout a centuries ago," he went on, "when I larned only a scandal makes juicy news. Yes sir, juicy news is my business."

After Stingaree's famous acceptance speech which was broadcasted to all the anti-literary world, Stingaree introduced top members of his scandalous staff.

"First I introduce to all yourn nice people, Hiram, Head Dirt Dobber, of Mustinger staff."

A short figure 2″ tall stepped forward in a fleurescent suit of pea green. "I cover all the scandals that I can un-



Dr. French Scores While Dressing In Salad Bowl

Gus Purcell, coach of the famous, faultless, fierce and fabulous horse shoe pitching team, announced today that they have accepted a bid to play in the Salad Bowl. He stated that the Mustangs, as the team is known, were attracted by the lettuce offered, and on the heels of the announcement a couple of the clunks threw a shoe. The coach will call the throws and flavor will be added to the Salad Bowl by a tropical FRENCH dressing . . . down.

Opponents will be the highly touted undercats, now training in the shadows of the high tension lines on the banks of the Upper Sugaw Crick. The team from this country club is untried, having been in existence merely three years. It is expected to trail the Mustangs by at least foddy-two points.

The Mustangs will lean on the efficacy of French Dressing to secure a lot of ringers to tie down the stake in the Salad Bowl.

Funetics To Be Tawt N Shawt Han Corses

My nam is—No, I dee sided not 2 tel u frinds cus if an u' noed I rit it, u'd never reed it. It jest is a bit of addvice. Som 20 od yearn I been n hy skoolin'—3 yearn a sener at Mize Pok as a fact. Long bout the furst of the yar I got roped n tu this heer funetics corse, I'm gona tel u bout. I was reel happy bout the matter cus I heered hit woud be easy an if an I passed I would have the credits tu grad-u-ate frum this enstitution. Nother thing I thawt if I ever dit git out uf this skoolin' I mite tak up the job uf a big bisness xecutiv an shawthan mite be handy then. Wel! I went tu the clas like I say. The teecher trys to teech this heer shawthan langwage alphabete. I said, I dit, "For 19 yearn I'v had trough-ble wit the goot king's Inglishe alphabete. I thank hit a darn site bettern to no the kank's Engishe than yourn landwage, miss teecher." Soo I no longer is a membar uf that thar class. I dee sided too go down to Doc Frenchie's office an adopt a ole lonely credit what was runnin' round wit nobody to luv him so I kin graduate cum loud wit all my cum loud frinds.

Billy Blackboard Chalks Up Record Or Black Billyboard Ralks Up Checord

(In the manner of the late Col. Stoopnagle)

Black Billy Bigboard, the idolized live-fetter man of Pyres Mark ralks up a checord not only in all athletics but also in the rasscloom! Unbnown to Killy, I followed the hulky husk of a me-han through his dasses the other clay. I don't shean to matter your greams, dals, but you mould be awazed at his bebarous barhavior!

Pirst feriod started off bith a wang! Niss Mewland tat on a sack which bischievous Milly had parefully claced in her whair chile her tack was burned. After Niss Mewland had dalmed cown and the class had cleased laughing sterhystically, we legan to bearn a little Engle—that is ex-one every cept Billy. He, of course, was bitting on the sack row with his fize 15 seet propped very domfortably on his cesk. He had his mand over his houth making all sorts of heird woises that lounded sike he was in preat gain. Soon the rell bang and we were on our fay to Wrench.

Diss Mawson was a few linutes mate to dass toclay. Saking advantage of the tituation, Willy brote on the Blackboard. When Diss Mawson rame into the coom, Billy wet a rew sorld necord for a 2dard yash over desks. Although Diss Mawson pereatedly bold Tilly to gedum, it was to vail noa. We all agreed to Diss Mawson's net-pame, "Bill-headed Bully."

Pird theriod, hudy stall, was one bazy crall! Dilly becided to lo to the gibrary and see how much foncusion he could create. He marted staking those neird woises again. Soon he thired of tat and tarted stapping his fleet on the floor until libryone in the evebrary jad hoined in. Wy the bay, the library has be wosed for a cleek now. Phiss Mifer has been heading severe haveaches.

Edical Physucation was dext on the naily adenga. I was unable to keep kabs on him cluring this dass, but I heard wy bay of the vapegrine that ciseps Billy was so shusy bowing off that he fehaved bairly well.

I hould cardly see Billyiful Beaut at lunch. Gundreds of hirls were swarmed around him like bees around a poney hot. Mor a finute I gaught there was a thoing to be conthing under everytrol. I have never in ly mife seen conone so anyceited.

After Filly bought off all the mefales, we ent to walgebra. He wadded up a pace of pieper, cook tareful aim and swat! the bitspall his Sprink Missle on the neck. Finking it was a thly she gushed to ret her pled rastic sly fwatter. Of course, Bid Bally was might in the ridst of fatching the "clys" for Sprink Missle. She was gentlehelmed at his overmanly hebavior but mickly quanged her mind when she saw Billy creving carvices in the desk and linging quite soudly. Every mew finutes he would rive his gendition of "Duddy have a Brink!"

We hent to wistory pixth seriod. I was seally rad to see that Tilly was hired by now. He only brew thooks gat the irls and drought a bag in the rasscloom. Dat a whay! Bat a whoy! I would thate to hink what cibeps Billy with the birdbrain would do if he chook temistry!

cover in these here passage ways who suns due east and which is bisected by that tharn long narrow hallway which is supposed to run due West. Last week, while sitting in Cindy Lous lunchbox I discovered a scandalous note tucked discreetly in thar for keerful keeping which she had done writ to hern boyfriend. Was her boyfriend surprised when the lead story which read 'Text of Secrit Love Letters Discovered.'

Next I introduces to you Maybelle McGillacudy who covers all scandals which happens during these educational classes. Take for instance Madame Newlandros class. Was she ever surprised when she found the murder of Macbeth took place in her class room behind her back. I'll never forget that headline of Maybelles' 'Newlandros Students Never Miss."

Mr. award giver here tells me my time is up for talking but I would like to say one thing. I like to tell you people secrets on scandal seeking if an you are interested. "Don't ever give up. There is an honest scandal in everything. Thank you."

Roller Skating To Be Taught At Mize Pok Skule

Mize Pok will soon be the only skule that has no tardies. This is logicle enouf when you realize that the averge Mize Pok scholar treds on his shoe soles 759 times on his journey from S. C. to Biology. Natcherly this doesn't meen rainy daze couse via walkways one wears off 1 12/27 inches of shoe leather per year, excluding Leap Year.

In order to save money on shoe leather the logical thing would be to be barefooted. However that isn't fittin' and proper.

The next best thing would be to stay at home! But that would leave the teachers eating chalk instead of stake. The Humane Society would insist on our coming.

Don't despair! There is yet a ray of hope. The next Mize Pok skedule will feature a korse in roller skating, too units in which will be necessary to graduate.

By covering the kampus on skates it will be possible to reduce the essential record of the horologue by the diviser of the Pythagorean theorem times the actual anti-gravitation constraint of the inert force plus the wind volisity and lo and behold — you've saved time by the bucket full!

That is, of course, only if you have not fallen. If such a tragedy should occur you may add 16 split seconds, three bruises, and two cups of chopped celery to the forementioned with the result being your total time, energy, and vocabulary lost per spill.

The main expense for this undertaking will be oil and insurance. Naturally the oil is for your hair, to keep it from blowing, and who would own skates that weren't insured.

Traffic lights will be installed at all hall intersections. All entrances will be fitted out with lifts to take care of the skaters.

In order to further speed transportation the entire campus will be concrete. This does not make it easier to fall—believe me! Therefore the Ambassadors will rent pillows to all individuals desiring them.

Poor Tot's Aid Holds Worry Meet

The Poor Tot's Aid has reached a standstill. For weeks this faithful organization has been trying desperately to put an end to students who write on the blackboards.

Miss Markham, a mathematics teacher at Mize Pok, held a strong voice in this matter. Said Miss Markham, "I want to see this silly scribbling on school slates stopped before they drive me crazy!" This caused an ululant uproar among the parents and teachers. Miss Markham went on to say that Nancy Adams, a jaunty jussive juvenile, had succeeded in making this "greenboard art" a fad.

Groups were formed in order that they might worry long enough to come to a conclusion. When all the ideas were collected and combined, the result was to Hide the Chalk. Mr. Williams has the secret hiding place. It would be impossible to break into this safe of steel. But in case you want to give it a try, the chalk can be found in Mr. William's left hip pocket!

Mortar Boards Arrive Plastering Begins

With the arrival of two hundred mortar boards, students of Mize Pok Hi Schule began mixing cement yesterday. This gigantic project is being carried on in order to fill up all the key holes in the buildings.

The plan was working well, with splendid cooperation from the students, until, on the third day of work, a serious accident happened to two men. Paul Biggers and John Eddy Hill were plastering the same key hole. They both slipped, and each boy got an eye full of cement. Every one got excited and started flapping his wings. They were rushed to the hospital, but too late. Upon arriving, they discovered the cement had dried and each boy had one cement eye.

May this be a lesson to you—stop peeking through Key Holes!

OPPORTUNITY

"Opportunity knocks but once at every door." PERHAPS!

Others tell us that opportunity comes frequently to all—and that an important ingredient for success lies in our ability to recognize opportunity when we see it!

The right to own life insurance is an opportunity generally available to youth—But, if not taken advantage of, either the opportunity is lost (by health impairment) or the cost to acquire it becomes greater (premiums increase with age).

Your parents, your advisers, your studies—all make you aware that some day (soon!) YOU must own considerable life insurance to help YOU on the road to success in life and in business. Discuss this idea with your parents, and others, if you wish, and then call on us for information as to why OWNING LIFE INSURANCE NOW IS AN UNEQUALLED OPPORTUNITY (for which the cost is less now than it can ever be again!)
